Town Council hears regional concept for recreation

Mr. Carl Royan, recently appointed recreation director by MD Sturgeon, met with council in committee October 25 and presented a concept of regional recreation which he felt would be beneficial for the town. At the invitation of council, Mr. Dave Fraser and Mr. Jim Wiltshire were present, representing the two school boards.

Mr. Royan felt a regional program, involving both the MD and the town, would enable some cuts in spending, allowing more professional people to be hired to work in recreation. Services of Renee Laird and himself, he suggested, could be used to benefit the whole region in arts and crafts, athletics and other areas.

Combined financing would also cut costs of duplication in administration and paper work he felt, and future facilities could be more economically planned on a regional basis. Parks for St. Albert should tie-in with the MD, and ski-doo trails, which could be controlled. The larger region could provide more specialized people, making it easier to get programs quickly off the ground, and providing continuous training, so that if one person left, a program need not collapse.

He thought also that under the regional plan St. Albert would be better reimbursed for those non-taxpayers in the area who presently have advantage of programs and pay little toward them, but who would contribute under regional grants from the province. More professional people he said could also assist in securing more provincial grants for qualified programs, not only from the Department of Youth, but from other interested departments.

St. Albert council and the MD council could both work out points they would want covered in a regional agreement, and desired programs as an initial step in this direction, concluded Mr. Royan, remarking that such a regional agreement would benefit both St. Albert and the MD.

Auxiliary presents $1500

Mary Campbell, past president of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Sturgeon General Hospital, and Mary Bondarevich, in charge of the gift shop at the hospital, present cheques of $800 and $700 to hospital administrator, Mr. Keyes. The funds will be used for equipment for the physiotherapy department which the hospital is opening soon.

The new administrator at the hospital, Mr. Clifford Keyes was more than happy to meet the members of the Ladies Auxiliary Monday evening, following his first day on the job. The auxiliary had two cheques ready for him.

A new executive was elected at the meeting and Shirley McQuitty is the new president, succeeding Mary Campbell. In the two years since it was formed the auxiliary has accomplished a good deal, both as fund raisers and in patient services. The gift shop they established with an original funding of $300 has proved an excellent service, and in June of this year they returned the $300 to the auxiliary. It is manned twice daily, in the main by auxiliary members.

Council adopts remote reading of water meters

Remote reading devices will be installed for all water meters on new dwellings, effective January 1st next year, and other residents may have them installed on request. In this case the resident may pay the cost of installation at the outset, or have the cost added to his regular billing, at a minimal amount per month.

The system will eliminate call backs by the meter reader in the many homes which are empty during day time hours. The device is installed on the exterior of the houses.

A letter from the telephone mediation committee was considered. The committee is reviewing the overall relationship between AGT and Edmonton Telephones as regards to areas of service, financial matters incidental to the operations of the two systems and impasses in contractual matters.

Coun. Bakker said that all would benefit with one system, and that municipalities should get a percentage of the revenue. Coun. de Bruijn felt that AGT is not efficient or profit-oriented. Council will advise the mediation committee of their concern that the outcome of discussions for changing boundaries may lead to increased rates, and that the town is opposed to such changes in boundaries.

A report on traffic control study by the Department of Highways recommended that fully actuated traffic signals are warranted on highway 2 at Ball Avenue, Edmonton Road and Sturgeon Road. Council will advise the department of the agreement between the town and themselves regarding maintenance and traffic controls on highway 2, which will control accesses, and which cannot be changed without approval. They will attempt to have the signals included in the department's next budget.

Some discussion took place on various projects which might qualify for federal aid under the local initiatives program for winter work, and staff recommendations with details were requested.

Councillor Thronson had been questioned by residents on the matter of signs on the highway. Secretary O'Connell said the office was getting many complaints on signs, following council's decision to enforce the by-law. Owners are extended the courtesy of being advised about illegal signs, but if they are not moved, the town removes them.

Councillor Kambourff is still most unhappy with the state of Grandin Road and Sir Winston Churchill Ave., and wanted to know how long council is going to put up with "half a road," commenting that this is the "best engineering design I have seen in years." He wants a start made on widening before next summer when he feels the half paved-half mud avenue will be intolerable. A report will be forthcoming from staff.

Councillor de Bruijn wants McEnaney avenue expedited, and a report on right-of-way progress.

Councillor Lukay moved to appoint Robert Russell as Emergency Measures Co-ordinator. The town has no co-ordinator at present and Mr. Russell had advised that he would serve in this capacity. In reply to his question on salary, Coun. Bakker was told the post carries an honorarium. Motion carried unanimously.

Administrator arrives at Sturgeon General

Born in Ottawa in 1923, he moved to the United States with his parents at an early age. Mr. Keyes holds Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Laws and Doctor of Laws degrees from Wayne State University, in Detroit.

His special interest lies in the field of hospital law and he has published several articles on the subject. A veteran of the U.S. Airforce he served during World War II. Mr. Keyes is a Fellow of the American Hospital Association and was president of the Arizona Chapter of the American Society for Hospital Personnel. He served as president of the St. Joseph's Hospital Council in 1967-68.

Clifford Keyes' career in hospital administration dates back to 1961. Most recently he was administrator of St. Joseph's Hospital in Nogales, Arizona. Prior to that he was director of personnel and public relations, and assistant to the administrator of St. Joseph's Hospital in Tucson, Arizona.

Eyes that keep on seeing

"Thanks!" This is a very sincere feeling of gratitude expressed by 35 persons in Alberta who this year have regained their sight through corneal transplants.

Their gratitude is extended to eye-donors and next of kin who so thoughtfully completed eye donor cards for the Eye Bank of Canada.

The Eye Bank of Canada is made up of four interested groups of persons striving for one goal — the conservation and restoration of sight.

The first of this group is the eye donor and next of kin who realize the importance of signing a pledge card and understand the necessity of having the donated eyes removed within six to eight hours after death.

Second on this team is the CNIB Eye Service Department, supervised by Mrs. M. A. Thirlwell, carrying out the co-ordination and ad-

Goings on at Paul Kane

By Holly Hill

It was announced Friday that classes "stunk." The physicist's teacher said it smelled like "Canal No. 5" but most of the students recognized it as Eau de Skunk. It seems one of these creatures decided that a nice warm place to hibernate would be under the teachers work room. The result was none too pleasant for the human inhabitants. The exterminators were called in and the odor no longer exists (neither does it's bearer)

HOLIDAYS:

Tomorrow and Friday students at Paul Kane will be free! No classes due to Remembrance Day and a teacher's seminar on Friday.

AMCHITKA BLAST DEMONSTRATION:

Last Wednesday, 12 students from PK attended the Amchitka Protest. They were Dianne Barnes and Robert Russel, grade 10; Don Isert, Shawn Nuttall, Cynthia Pachal, and Gerry Peterson, grade 11; and Judy Bond, Shari Christensen, Holly Hill, Dino McLaughlin, Barry Onishenko, and Nancy Rayment, grade 12. The group was concerned with the political and biological effects of the blast, but learned more about demonstrations than about Amchitka.

VOLLEYBALL:

PK's teams attended a volleyball tournament at Athabasca Saturday. Only two games were played against each of the other teams the winner being determined by the scores.

The boys lost two games to Lac la Piche, Athabasca, and Grasslands, won one game against Barrhead but lost the set, and won both games against Boyle.

Canadian distiller plans Japanese plant

Distillers Corp. - Seagrams Ltd., hopes to have a distillery in operation in Japan in about 2 1/2 years. According to the company, an agreement has been signed with Japan's Kirin Brewery, which controls 60 per cent of that country's beer market, to build a distillery on a 50-50 basis. Under Japanese law, foreign firms are permitted to hold a 50 per cent interest in new distilleries operated in Japan.

Sometime in the next couple of weeks, busy home-makers have to seriously start thinking of doing their baking for the festive season. While we all like to whip up some of our family's favorites, too much baking can get to be a real chore, and this is where the ladies of the Burning Bush Circle of Braside Presbyterian church come in. The group is holding a bake sale at Safeway's, Nov. 19, from 2 - 5. Here's your chance to stock up on goodies.

The Gazette is looking for a carrier among residents of the new Lacombe Park subdivision. Boys or girls of 11 - 13 years should telephone Friday morning between 9 and 10.

Nearly all guests showed up in costume for the Newcomers club halloween party, held last Wednesday. Prizes were awarded for the prettiest, most original and funniest costumes. Some of the creations were really something else and by all reports, the merry-makers had a ball!

The Honorable Lou Hyndman, minister of education, will address the noon luncheon meeting.

Close to 400 teachers are expected to attend the seminar to be held at St. Albert High School.

Council Briefs

An application for subdivision of 1.65 acres on the east of Forest Lawn replot into 11 residential parcels was approved, subject to it coming under proper development agreement.

The area, as pointed out by planner Woodroffe, is a logical extension of Forest Lawn. Vote was 6 - 1 with Mayor Gibson opposed.

Mr. Jackson of Integrated Engineering Limited met with committee on a request from Northern Land Holdings for a decision on sewer outfall from their property (120 acres across from Jasper Auto Parts). Sewer line could take alternative routes possibly through Ball Estate ravine or through the Forest Lawn route. Developers would be responsible for reclaiming the ravine if that route was selected, which Coun. deBruijn pointed out would probably leave the ravine in better shape following the landscaping.

The matter was tabled pending a report from staff. Permission was given to Walker and Newby Associates to proceed with pregrading the Forest Lawn replot area, over the protest of Coun. Kambouroff that no work should be started prior to a development agreement being signed. Engineer Maandag recommended the pregrading prior to frost conditions, and the planner had no objections. The work will be done at the developer's risk and no other kind of construction will be allowed prior to the agreement being signed. Motion carried 5 - 2 with Kambouroff and Lukay opposed.

Town staff have been requested to prepare a report on the undeveloped lands on the river front, their areas and feasibility as park lands. The Edmonton Regional Planning Commission will also be asked for recommendations.

A memorandum from the engineer outlined the investigation carried out by closed circuit television camera in the sewer mains on Grosvenor Blvd. He recommended that a sewer flusher be purchased for sewer maintenance, and was asked to bring in costs of buying and leasing.

Following a brief discussion of the Preventive Social Services Committee minutes of August 26 and September 30, it was decided this committee should meet with council at a special meeting to be arranged as soon as possible. Date was later set for Wednesday, Nov. 10. It was hoped that misunderstandings on a number of policies and avenues of procedure could be clarified to the satisfaction of both bodies.

Minutes of the parks and recreation board were also reviewed and council will also meet with them on the matter of how the arena fits in with the board.

Thank-You

The United Church Women would like to thank all those who attended our tea and bazaar last Saturday, making it a very successful day. A special thanks to the Girl Guides who assisted serving and to the teenagers who looked after the babysitting.

Letters to the Editor

More protest on PSS appointments

The Editor:

Again regarding the recent appointments to the Preventive Social Services Committee. I feel I must take exception to Mayor Gibson's letter in the Nov. 3 Gazette.

Three positions were open on the committee.

Four applications were received.

Three applications were voted on and accepted.

The fourth application was not voted on at all.

Why not?

A more democratic if not intelligent method of selecting the new committee members would have been to draw three names from a hat. Then, at least, all four applicants would have had a gambler's chance of being appointed.

In the recent town elections three people ran for the position of mayor. Had a fourth person been nominated I'm sure he or she would have been granted the chance to contest the election.

Four concerned people applied for the PSS positions. Surely ALL the applicants deserved EQUAL consideration from council

Shirley McCaffery
Sonora Drive.

The Editor:

In spite of Mayor Gibson's lengthy explanation as to the method used to fill the vacancies on this committee I am still left with the distinct impression that one applicant, namely Mrs. Theresa Parsons, did not get a fair shake. Since, in the mayor's own words, "Council asked to vote on EACH applicant separately," I cannot see how one applicant could be dropped from the list completely, regardless of how many affirmative votes preceded her. To give each applicant the same chance, councillors should have written down all names submitted, in their order of preference, then dropping the name most often appearing last. I believe, that citizens of this town, who volunteer their time and talent to the betterment of this community, deserve a little more consideration.

R. Sonntag,
Grandora Cres.

Mr. Lynch follows up on election ideas

My open letter three weeks ago appears to have been an exercise in apathy. Not one reader has taken the effort to refute or support my opinion.

For what it is worth, however, I would still like to recommend to the public a possible solution to undesirable election situations.

It has become the practice for the most part for Candidates to conceal their intentions until nominations are ready to close. Consequently we are faced with acclamations and possibly undesirable slates of Candidates.

In elections there is a need for more involvement by everyone. Situations mentioned above could be avoided by a group (service club, church group, women's league, citizens committee, etc.) in a town our size actually selecting and actively supporting a slate of candidates properly representative of a cross section of the residents. This way the qualifications properly presented and supported from the outset.

This certainly may not be the answer but I feel that it may be a desirable means of producing results to difficult problems. Consider, for example, the increasing welfare costs. A great many people, including politicians, are desirous of cutting back on payments to essentials only. Seldom will you find a Candidate who will risk votes to publicly declare his personal position on such a topic. Properly selected candidates who can be relied upon to take definite action on sticky problems could be given a mandate if supported by conscientious organizations.

One other point I would like to discuss briefly is the attitude of many residents to say "we elected them, let them do it." I feel it is grossly unfair to expect a mayor or even a few councillors to shoulder the entire load of researching and legislating the complex problems faced by our town. Why not a volunteer committee to investigate and document the pollution problem in the river valley or the drug problem or the busing difficulties, etc. and have it presented to our legislators so that they may devote their time more effectively to dealing with the problems to find solutions. Dozens of citizens have development of the recreational facilities in the town is invited to attend.

A day for remembrance

By Wally Sweeneychuk

The 11th of November is a day set aside by many nations to commemorate those who did not return from the battlefields. We should also remember those unsung and unheralded men who lost their lives while on duty keeping the peace under the banner of the United Nations.

Some Canadians may ask - Why should we go on remembering war? Why should a few of the minority force the holiday on the rest of the country and prevent them from participating in trade on this day?

The answer is simple! No matter in what manner these people may demonstrate their objection to war, militantly, disorderly, or even peacefully, no demonstration approaches the sane, purposeful and reverent thought than the demonstration by the few remaining participants of the last three wars. No demonstration carries more weight than the annual remembrance for those who paid the supreme sacrifice.

To those who deny us the statutory right to remember the war and our fallen comrades, we say ... if happened to us, we do not want it to happen to you. THINK!

PEOPLE AND WHAT THEY DO

text by Hennie Stibbe

Edith and Heinrich Eichner

Artists

Edith and Heinrich Eichner are two very different personalities, yet, they are remarkably alike. This gifted couple share a deep love for children, life and all the things around them. Above all, they share a love for art.

Edith and Heinz are artists; they are true artists in the sense that they do not limit their talents to any one form. Their work includes sculpture, paintings, folk art and carvings.

The Eichners met at the School of Fine Art in Munster, Germany; they were married there and graduated in 1952. "West-Germany is good for artists," says Edith. "By law, every building has to spend a certain percentage on art; then, it was two per cent, but that has since doubled." This meant that the Eichners, like all good artists, were working. Their work can be found on and in many buildings in Germany and is well represented in galleries and museums.

In 1959 Edith and Heinz realized that Europe was no place to bring up their family. "Europe is like a flowerpot, while Canada is a great farm," is the way Heinz compares his new homeland to the old country. "And don't forget, there is a stick of dynamite in the flowerpot." Heinz fears war, and says in heavily populated Europe chances of survival, should war break out, are slim.

Heinz had just won an award for sculpting and he used the money he had won to buy tickets for Edith and himself and their three children to come to Edmonton. Two more children were born here, the youngsters now range in age from 11 to 16. "They are all artists," Edith says proudly.

"We had nothing when we came, we did not speak English. We just had three babies in diapers," Edith recalls.

Heinz took a variety of jobs to support his family, there was little demand for his art in western Canada at that time. After the first difficult years, the Eichner name became better known and Edith and Heinz were well established in their south Edmonton art studio when the family moved to Gibbons, last summer.

"The noise of the big city was beginning to affect me," says Edith, a vivacious brunette. "We have bought a lovely place of pine woodland, and we are very happy here."

"Here" is an attractive split level home in fast growing Gibbons. The home is filled with Edith's work and Heinz has his shop in back of the house.

"Because we cannot live from art alone, Heinz does antique and Danish furniture repairs," Edith points out.

It is through a happy customer that we first learned of this particular talent of Heinz's. "Our tear sofa had completely dried out, and one day it fell apart, literally broke in pieces," this lady told us. "I cried. Then my husband took it to Eichner's and in a week we could pick it up. Mr. Eichner had bolted it, and I swear, you could not tell where the wood had splintered. When my husband expressed his surprise at this, Mr. Eichner scowled, 'of course it does not show, did you expect it to?' He did a fantastic job."

Edith's philosophical approach to life is evident in her sculpture "Survivor." "It shows a depressive state," she says, "but with enough willpower to come back again. In other words, when you are down, there should be no giving up. Depression is a temporary state."

The Eichners have no had an easy life. Heinz was a soldier in the German army and saw action on the Russian front. He was wounded seven times and was once lost in Siberia for 12 days, where he wandered around in temperatures of 60 below, with no food.

Remembering what hunger is, he is now a bit of a health food nut, although Edith says he regularly raids the fridge and eats everything in sight. "If you didn't make it, I would not be tempted to eat it," is his answer to that.

The Eichners work together very successfully and have collaborated on many works. "We are a team," says Edith, "artistically and in our home lives. When I do a design for Heinz, he tells me 'it is just the way I would have done it myself.'"

"Edith works through feeling, I work through thinking," explains Heinz. "Edith is too impulsive, I have to calm her down all the time." This is quickly countered by Edith with "Heinz is too straight." For example, she says, Heinz does not like her to explain her work. "You say it all wrong," he says. "You see, I can paint or sculpt, but I cannot talk about it," she pouts. But she does talk stigate people to think on their own. "He feels very strongly that once you tell someone the title of a painting, 'he will see only that one meaning, so much better that he should look for his own interpretation.'"

In 1961 Heinz was awar-

Heinz and Edith show a painting Edith did after hearing the story of a puppy-love, abruptly ended with the death of the young girl. "The boy everyday brought flowers to the grave and kept asking 'Why did she have to die!'" about her work, which, she says, "is a part of me." Edith's work is sensitive, touching, and, as she points out, "there is a story, a meaning behind everything."

Take her "Philosophy of a Flowerchild." A large painting, it shows footprints walking by a black rectangle (society), searching for beauty. When the footprints find beauty, a single flower, they walk around it, in a circle. Once there, they are at a loss as to what to do with their discovery, and continue on, and walk out of the painting. "This is the problem with the world, people never know when to stop, they don't know when they have something good," says Heinz.

He is against giving paintings a title. "It is up to the viewer to get his own impression," he says. "Sometimes, someone will ask me 'what is this painting?' and I say 'what do you think it is?' The purpose of art, as Heinz sees it, is to "ina copper sheet relief in folding technique which graces L'Academie Assomption, in Edmonton. Another of Heinz's works can be found at the Queen Elizabeth Planetarium, the Signs of the Zodiac, a large figure in natural stone mosaic inlay. This particular work was very much a family affair. "The children helped gather the stones and grind them."

Heinrich Eichner, at home in Gibbons. At the top of the photograph is "Renewal of Life." It shows heavy footprints in concrete, depicting the rut man can so easily get into. Then, when things get really bad, man leaves his troubles (old, heavy shoes) behind, and continues on, light, barefoot steps, fresh green grass and flowers.

Heinz also did the carved lettering at Holy Redeemer College in south Edmonton, as well as murals for many buildings.

One of Heinz's murals is in "scraffiti," a technique which involves scraping out designs in mortar consisting of different colored layers. By scratching out the designs to varying depths, an interesting, multi-colored low relief effect is achieved.

Heinz also spent two years lecturing on the faculty of the Arts at the U of A.

What makes Edith paint? "Sometimes I paint something I have seen in a dream, sometimes I think about a painting for weeks before I put it on canvas." One of Edith's "dreams" now hangs in the office of an Edmonton psychiatrist, she informs us, with twinkling eyes.

Edith recalls painting to some "evil" music on the radio. "I painted and painted, I could not stop. Heinz told me to turn off the music, he could not stand it, it was like his hair was being pulled out, but I had to go on." The painting that resulted was an "evil" painting, Edith says, "of red and green cats licking blood. It was bought before the paint was dry, by the kindest, most gentle people you could ever imagine. They are so good and kind, I think they need something evil in their lives."

"I have to have a reason to paint," she says, "A wood carving I can do anytime, but not paint."

Edith has also written a delightful fairy-tale, beautifully illustrated. The book, "The Golden Dream," is to be published soon.

"We are doing what we want to do, we are working on our dreams," says Edith. For the Eichners, dreams are coming true in Gibbons.

Edith with one of her most recent works, a sculptured painting. She employs a build-up technique, her medium is poly-filler. Edith points to the male and female forms and explains the positive-negative concept is always evident in nature.

St. Albert Esso Extras (school teachers) moved into top spot in the St. Albert mens' hockey league with a 5 - 3 win over second place Kinsmen Warriors, Monday night in the arena.

Kinsmen led 1 - 0 on Larry Mitchell's goal after one period of play, but fell behind 3 - 2 after two when B. Chaput, L. Bracco and D. Chugg scored for the Esso squad. Tom White scored for the Kinsmen. Esso added two more in the final period as J. Laplante and F. Hoebers scored. Jamie Burton tallied for the Kinsmen.

Last Thursday the Kinsmen scored a 7 - 2 win over Grandin Golf on two goals each by Larry Mitchell and Terry Moore. Marsh Morniyuk, Tom White and Jamie Burton added single markers for the Kinsmen.

Gulf scored on goals from Denis Limoges and Elmer Palchuk.

Kinsmen netminder Rusty Pollard played a very strong game between the pipes stopping some very good scoring chances.

Next scheduled games have Gulf against Atlas Nov. 10, while Calgary Power takes on National Life, Nov. 11.

Next Monday, November 15, sees Kinsmen vs National Life.

Flyers beat Meteors in chippy game

The CWC Flyers from Edmonton doubled the score on the Meteors as they skated to an 8 - 4 win last Sunday night in the St. Albert arena. Both clubs played very chippy hockey during the first two periods with two players being ejected from the game.

The officials took both captains aside before the third period started and advised them to play hockey or else. The teams showed they could stick to hockey and a total of seven goals were scored.

CWC took an early 2 - 0 lead before Ed Wheeler scored for the Meteors to end the first period. The Flyers added two more in the second while St. Albert were making a steady stream to the penalty box. The third period was wide open with the Flyers adding four more and the Meteors three.

Henry Warunki, Mike Belcourt and Tom Mahar scored for the Meteors.

Juveniles swamp Westlock

St. Albert's juvenile team journeyed to Westlock Sunday night and came away with a 10 - 4 exhibition win over the Warriors.

Both clubs were tied 4-4 going into the third period before St. Albert broke loose for six unanswered goals to wrap up the contest.

Doug Ferguson and Jan Kristensen each had a hat trick for St. Albert while Willie Grueber added a pair. Doug Reinbolt and Ray Gauthier scored the others.

Brad Rix and Bernie Douzich shared the netminding chores for St. Albert

Comets take 22 penalties in two games

St. Albert Comets senior hockey team in two league starts have one win plus a disastrous loss. Last Friday in St. Albert, Richie Perrault scored unassisted at the 11:25 mark of the third period to give the Comets a 3 - 2 win over Ray's Esso. This was the first league game of the season.

St. Albert opened the scoring when Al Laplante found the range at the 9:25 mark of the opening period. Ray's tied the score at the 18:30 mark when Garry Checknita scored on a goal mouth scramble. Laplante put Comets ahead 30 seconds later on a set up from Jim Read to give the Comets a 2 - 1 lead going into the dressing room. While Ray's were a man short in the second, Checknita scored his second of the game to tie the score. Perrault then banged in the winner while having a man advantage.

The win was costly for the Comets as they lost three players. Terry Dube was given a game misconduct for interfering with the officials after defenseman Les Yanchuk was knocked out of play by an objectionable body check. Another defenseman, John Arnot has an ankle injury. Comets took 11 of 20 penalties.

On Sunday the Comets went down to defeat 11 - 4 to the hometown Leduc Oilers. St. Albert with only 14 players dressed were never in the game after the Oilers scored twice before the first minute of play had elapsed. Doug Murray then scored three goals in 24 seconds midway through the period to put the game out of reach and the Oilers went into the dressing room with a 7 - 0 lead.

Comet outscored the Oilers 2 - 1 in the second on goals by Brian Stevens and Al Laplante. The Oilers took a charge in the final period scoring three times to the

AL LAPLANTE

Comets two. Jim Read scored his first of the year for the Comets and Jake Constant added the other. Once again Comets led the parade to the penalty box taking 11 of 20 penalties including four in a row in the first period and six straight in the second.

Coach Ken Schwartz hopes to have Dube, Arnot and Yanchuk back in the line up for this Friday's game against Ray's Esso in the St. Albert Arena at 8 p.m.

On Sunday the Comets go to Sherwood Park for a game against the Barons at 8 p.m.

Pee Wees win shut out

St. Albert's pee wee representative hockey team were visitors to Westlock last Sunday and came home with a 7 - 0 win.

Darryl Lipiak, Dave Shipanoff and Danny Ouellette scored two each while Ron Sander added the other.

Francis Twozak and Greg McRae shared netminding duties and had very few shots to handle.

Despite the score, Westlock's goalie played very well and kept St. Albert from going into double figures.

Namoo seniors win 2 in Edson

Namoo's senior hockey team travelled to Edson last weekend and came away with two impressive victories. Namoo coach Clay Crozier was very pleased with the team which last year captured the Sturgeon Valley League title in a series against Calahoo.

Saturday night Bob Crozier paced Namoo to a 9 - 5 win with a three goal performance while Bill Akerman added a pair. Single goals went to Adolf Yeske, Lee Crozier, Reg Buralson and Bob Samis.

Sunday afternoon Reg Buralson scored a pair as Namoo shaded Edson 6 - 4. Adolf Yeske, Bill Akerman, Max Yeske and Dale Hagdorn rounded out the scoring.

Walter Jerram sees need for co-operation

Walter Jerram, a bachelor cattle farmer from the Bon Accord area, says there is a very strong need for the MD council to work in close co-operation with all levels of government.

WALTER JERRAM

A candidate in division 7 in the November 24 elections, Mr. Jerram sites as an example of non-co-operation the failure or refusal of the past council to take $12,000 from the provincial government to establish a municipal park in the district.

Mr. Jerram said if he is elected he will work closely with the towns and villages. "And it is most important that we work with our M.L.A. in the best interests of the MD," he added.

Mr. Jerram, 39, said he is "old enough to have experienced mature judgement to be able to work in local government and young enough to be progressive." Mr. Jerram was raised on a farm and eight years ago bought his own farm eight miles north of Bon Accord.

A Metis mother who lost two sons in World War II, will represent Canadian motherhood at the national Remembrance ceremony in Ottawa on November 11. She is Mrs. Mary Anderson of Selkirk, Manitoba. Both her sons were killed overseas. One died in Italy in 1943, and the other was killed in France a year later.

Morinville graduates honoured

Twenty-seven graduates from Georges Vanier high school in Morinville were honored recently at a banquet and graduation exercises and ball in the rec centre. A mass of thanksgiving preceded the banquet for 225. Arthur Krauskopf emceed the banquet program when civic and school officials brought greetings and congratulations.

Terry Woytkiv, president of the Students Union, was master of ceremonies for the exercises, and Sharon Van Brabant was valedictorian for her class. She chose as her theme "we have only just begun."

Guest speaker was Rev. Paul Poirier of College St. Jean, Edmonton. He stressed the distinction between real and false values in life, and felt that the grounding the students had received in academic and moral training would help them evaluate situations in adult life.

Mayor Art Stapleton also spoke to the students, offering congratulations and the hope that the students would become ambassadors of good will in the world as they look up their new careers.

Matt Tellier, chairman of the board noted that this was the largest class to have graduated from the school, and complimented the students. Father Primeau spoke briefly, concluding with the Peace Prayer by St. Francis D'Assisi.

A capacity crowd attended the dance that followed.

as became clear at the graduation exercises held in Legal last week. Principal Mr. Dixon Keane presented the academic awards, and in this high school they are not earned easily, for the requirement standards are high.

The largest scholarship of $250 provided by the school board, requires an average of 75 per cent or more in five major subjects, to include English, in grade 12. It was awarded to David Kallal. Two other board scholarships went to Bernice Mercier, $125, and Roland Dusseault, $75. They were presented by Board Chairman, Mr. Hervey St. Onge.

Mrs. Ben St. Martin represented the Ladies Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Legion, for awards of $10 to Sylvia Charrois, top grade 9 student; to Louise Landry highest average for grade 12 student not working for matriculation; to David Kallal, highest grade 12 average in matriculation program.

CWL Awards for highest average, grade 10 and grade 11 went to Bruce Kallal and Anne Kallal respectively. Mrs. P. Cornelis represented the CWL.

Femmes Chretiennes, represented by Mrs. Lucienne Montpetit, presented an award for the grade 10 student with highest average in advanced French, to Sylvia Blodeau.

Sturgeon Local of the ATA medal award for highest average in grade 9 went to Sylvia Charrois. Mr. Keane also recognized two grants, by Landing Trail Sub-Local of the ATA, and the Knights of Columbus, Legal Branch, $25 each, to send a student to the United Nations seminar in Banff, who is chosen for good achievement in grade 11 social studies. Terry Keane was the student chosen.

Medals and Pins awards for high achievement in grades 9 - 12, with the highest average getting both medal and pin in each case. These were presented as follows: with first-names receiving the top award: Grade 9: Sylvia Charrois, Paulette Cloutier and Marcel Regimbald; Grade 10: Bruce Kallal and Simone Messier; Grade 11: Anne Kallal, Corrine Bergevin, Bonnie Campbell, Terry Keane and Denis Zilinski. Grade 12: David Kallal, Henriette Auger, Roland Dusseault, Rita Krauskopf, Jeanette Zilinski and Bernice Mercier.

Never A Speck Of Frost . . . with Frost-Free !

HOW DOES THE NO-FROST FEATURE WORK?

In a "frost-free" or "no-frost" refrigerator, food is cooled by air that is chilled and dehumidified by circulating it over cooling coils outside the food compartments. The cold dry air is then fan-circulated back into the freezer and refrigerator compartments. The condensation on the coils is desiccated automatically, and drips into a pan under the refrigerator to evaporate into the room.

WHAT IS THE ADVANTAGE OF FAN-CIRCULATED COLD AIR?

Every corner of the freezer and fresh food compartment is evenly chilled by the fan-forced air thereby cooling food more quickly than cold air circulated by gravity. There is a faster recovery of cold losses caused by door openings and addition of warm foods.

DO FOODS DRY OUT?

No-frost refrigerator-freezers work on a principle of constant circulation of air within the refrigerator and freezer. It is very important to keep food wrapped or well-covered, to prevent drying out of the product, and to prevent odors from developing.

MUST A FROST-FREE REFRIGERATOR-FREEZER BE CLEANED OFTEN?

Every refrigerator should be thoroughly washed at least once a month. Use a solution of two tablespoons baking soda to one quart of warm water to wash the interior.

CAN FROZEN FOODS BE STORED FOR A LONG PERIOD OF TIME IN THE FREEZER SECTION?

The freezer compartment in a no-frost refrigerator-freezer is known as a true-zero-degree freezer. The temperature is maintained at approximately zero degrees, ensuring long-term storage.

IS IT EXPENSIVE TO OPERATE A FROST-FREE REFRIGERATOR?

A frost-free, zero-zoned refrigerator-freezer will cost more to operate than the standard refrigerator but the owner is receiving extra value. The frost-free feature eliminates the time consuming task of defrosting and the freezer section will keep frozen foods at top quality.

WHAT OTHER FEATURES SHOULD BE CONSIDERED WHEN BUYING A REFRIGERATOR?

A BUTTER CONDITIONER is an optional feature. A temperature control will keep the butter firm or at a desired spreading consistency.

A special MEAT KEEPER is available which has chilled air circulation to keep meat fresh up to seven days.

Removable EGG TRAYS are most convenient. Some will store up to 20 eggs.

SHELVES that slide out or revolving shelves make food at the back readily accessible. Adjustable or cantilever shelves are excellent space-savers as they can be adjusted to any position to accommodate bulky or small items.

If you are planning to purchase a new refrigerator, obtain a free Refrigerator Buying Guide by writing to Calgary Power, Home Service, Box 1900, Calgary, Alberta.

Sturgeon Heights School - result of careful planning

"This school is the result of several years of planning and very close co-operation between Morley Workin, the architect, the board of trustees of Sturgeon School Division and the teaching staff," explained Walter Heppler, principal of the new Sturgeon Heights school.

This careful planning has resulted in sizeable savings; many small items, which teachers through their experience found to be unnecessary have been eliminated from the school, and, says Mr. Heppler, "all these little things add up."

The school has a staff of 16, including Mr. Heppler and a full time librarian, and has 360 students attending grades 1 to 7. It is planned for a maximum enrolment of about 475. The attendance area includes, roughly speaking, a three mile strip on either side of No. 2 highway, from the St. Albert town limits to just south of Legal, excluding Morinville.

Prior to the opening of the new school, these children attended Mission Park school in St. Albert and Cunningham school in Morinville. All students are transported to school by a fleet of 11 buses, and all take their lunch. "We have both protestant and catholic students, and offer an optional course in the catholic religion to those who want to take it," Mr. Heppler said.

One of the busier spots in the school is the communications control room, just off the general office and next to the principal's office. The school receives channels 3, 5 and 11 and has its own channel, 4. Here, educational programs can be taped to be replayed on demand. Teachers, or students, can "book" any program and arrange to look at it at their convenience.

Circle is air-conditioned

The air-conditioned circle is the hub of academic activity. The large, open area houses the instructional materials centre, which boasts over 7,000 books and more than 1,000 pieces of audio-visual materials.

Children are free to use whatever materials they wish. "We want to get away from the spoon-feeding concept, and want our kids to learn to take responsibility for the materials which are available to them," Mr. Heppler said.

There are seven classrooms in this open area, which took two weeks for the students to get used to, Mr. Heppler said. "Some of our teachers took a bit longer." Here, about 40 junior high students are involved in a pilot-project under the guidance of Anthony Taylor, vice-principal of the school. The students are involved in a Math-Science program which encourages them to work independently; they meet with Mr. Taylor on a regular basis, but he is more of a consultant. "This program enables kids who run into difficulty in a regular classroom setting to show what they can do. They write the same tests as the rest of the students and we are happy with the program so far," Mr. Heppler noted.

Regular classrooms

The seven open classrooms are not assigned to any one grade, the teacher takes the class to whatever area suits the program best. There are a number of regular classrooms at Sturgeon Heights school, these are used for homerooms, where the students go for organization at the start of the day, they eat their lunch here and are dismissed from these rooms.

Some students and teachers function better in a regular classroom and they are encouraged to make use of them. "We want our staff and students to work where they are most comfortable," says Mr. Heppler.

Around the circle are staff offices, used by teachers

Heppler. The school also saved on lockers. "We have two students sharing one locker, which, by the way, are half-size. We also charge a locker fee. Students in grades 1, 2 and 3 keep their belongings in their classrooms."

Grades 2 and 3 have their own "little" school inside the big school. These youngsters are in a completely self-contained open area.

Mr. Heppler obviously enjoys showing visitors through the new school. "You know," he says, "this is the kind of facility which, when I started teaching, I thought I might get into about the time I was ready to retire. It has come about a lot sooner than I thought. Things have moved very, very fast in the last 10 years."

Walter Heppler sees the school of the future as more of a community centre. "I think we will see the children who need day-care come to the school building, while others may work more at home." Will this mean fewer teachers? "Not necessarily.

locker rooms and showers and the large gymnasium.

"This area was planned with community use in mind. We can lock the circle and thereby close-off the academic area, leaving this section open for after school activities," Mr. Heppler draws attention to the small kitchen, complete with sink and cupboards and wired for an electric range. "Groups can hold their functions here, and prepare a lunch."

The music theatre features carpeted floors, excellent for choral work. The theatre opens up to the stage and the tiers provide good seating for small plays, without tying up the gym.

For large functions, such as the official opening when more than 700 people attended, chairs are put up in the gym. The music room is separated from the stage by double folding walls; these provide good sound insulation. The stage has cat-walks and can easily be used as a TV stage; it comes complete with make-up rooms.

The Belanger sisters of Villeneuve, Rollande, 8, and Laurette, 10, demonstrate one of the film strip viewers which are readily available to students of Sturgeon Heights school.

The art room features a separate kiln room, the school's electric kiln is to be installed soon, and a paint room, with ceramic tiled floor and floor drain, where students can mix and spray paints to their hearts delight. The school also has a concrete outside art area, for sculpting, or work on large projects when weather permits.

"The gymnasium is another area where we were able to save money," Mr. Heppler notes. "We used the cheaper concrete blocks, the kind that has wood shavings mixed in. They have a rougher appearance, but give much better acoustics than the more expensive smooth blocks."

The showers in the boys and girls (with curtains, yet) locker rooms are controlled from the instructors' offices, which come equipped with their own showers. "This way, there's no way the kids can scold each other," Mr. Heppler said.

The school does not offer household economics or industrial arts; the junior high student population, at present 120, is too small for the department of education to authorize these courses. But the school is looking ahead to adding these subjects as its population grows.

The $730,000 school was

officially opened Nov. 1st and is the first new school Sturgeon Division has built since 1959. All the division's schools have had additions built in the last five years. Sturgeon Heights school is located on a 25 acre site just north of St. Albert.

The air-conditioned circle houses seven open classrooms and the instructional materials centre, which boasts 7,000 books and more than 1,000 items of A-V materials.

for preparation; seminar rooms, where small groups can meet for discussion or special instruction; the project room, complete with drafting table where staff and students can prepare maps and charts, a two-bay infirmary and science labs. The school hopes to install a small weather station soon on a platform over one of the labs.

Sturgeon Heights school was funded entirely under the provincial foundation program. "The department allowed $16.57 per square foot; the school was built for $16.02," Mr. Heppler points out. In recent months, schools in the city are being awarded for up to $18 per square foot. "One of the ways in which we economized was by bringing in most of the furniture from the old schools," Mr. Heppler noted. "Also, as you may have noticed, this school has no windows, except for a few in one of the corridors." This represents a substantial saving, according to Mr.

The teacher of the future will be able to spend more time with those students who need extra attention."

Rectangular wing

Leaving the circle behind, the "noise generating area" is in the rectangular part of the building. Located here is the mechanical room where everything runs automatically. The school gets its water from St. Albert, the district installed a two inch line, Mr. Heppler comments.

"It used to be when something went wrong in the mechanical room, the principal would fix it. No way is this principal going to touch any of this," he says. "But so far everything is running well," and he glances confidently at the whirring fans and belts and things mechanical which make the school tick.

Also located in the rectangular wing are the music, art and dramatics areas,

RURAL RECREATION

By Carl Royan, Recreation
Director, MD Sturgeon.

The MD of Sturgeon Recreation Board will be adding two new consultants to the board. These members will be youth representatives and will hopefully convey the ideas of the youth throughout the area to the board. The members have not been chosen as yet, but will be one male and one female representing two large areas of the MD. For the first while they will act strictly on a consultative basis but this aspect will be reviewed after a probationary period.

I attended a meeting of the Horse Hill community league last week. This meeting was set up to review the role recreation could play in the community. Many good ideas were projected by those in attendance and activities will start in the near future. For further information contact me at 424-6276 or 256-3321 between 1 - 3 daily.

President Ken McConnell informed the meeting that community league memberships will soon be mailed to all persons in this area and urged everyone to become a member and start using the services it provides to a greater extent.

I was also informed at this meeting that there will be a turkey bingo at the Lamoureux Hall on Tuesday, Nov. 23 at 8 p.m. There will be 20 games, all for turkeys and two door prizes. The admission will be $1 and all proceeds will go to the improvement of the Lamoureux Hall. Everyone is urged to attend the bingo and support the community in their attempt to renovate the hall.

There has been interest shown in the formation of a senior basketball league in the area. This league would be open to any community that is interested and could get underway quickly if enough interest is shown. Any persons interested in such a league should contact me at my office.

Golf clubs have been made available to the MD by the Golden West Golf Course and Driving Range. Anyone interested in golf lessons can get more information by contacting me at my office.

Thank-You

The Marguerite d'Youville Auxiliary wishes to extend a sincere Thank You to the sisters of the Home, without whose co-operation the annual tea and bazaar would not be possible; to the residents of the Home; to the pourers and to the citizens of the community and surrounding district for their fine support.

Your help will enable us to carry on with our many projects in aid of the Youville Home.

After being approached by numerous ratepayers in division 4 of the Municipal District of Sturgeon to run for council, I decided to do so. My family moved from southern Alberta to this division in 1927. After spending my youth here, I moved to Jasper Place, working for a Lumber Company for five years. Later I was self employed in trucking, construction, operating a retail store, and in real estate. During all these years, I took an active interest in municipal and local affairs in Jasper Place, being a member of the Chamber of Commerce, a charter member of Lions International, and several other organizations. I still hold executive positions in some of these clubs.

In 1962 we purchased a raw quarter section of land west of Villeneuve. This we have developed and now grow select, foundation, and registered seed grain and also some beef cattle. Since moving back to this area, I have been very interested in all aspects of community and municipal affairs in the municipal division.

As I feel I have the necessary time and ability to perform the duties of a councillor, I hereby solicit your support in the forthcoming election. I am endeavoring to contact all electors in this division prior to election date, to personally meet with you. Should anyone wish to contact me, we live three miles west of Villeneuve, and the phone number is 599-3291.

Frank Comeau

MD elections are once again just around the corner. With but two weeks before election, I must say there is a great deal of interest in Division 4.

It seems to me that participation and interest of all people in the affairs of our municipality is a key to effective local government.

For this reason I have submitted my nomination for the forthcoming election on Nov. 24.

Local government as I see it is a two-way street. The councillors need to know what the people want and the people need to know what the councillors are thinking. And of course the council has to do the day to day work of managing our affairs.

This requires leadership and sound thinking on the part of the councillors. Some times a councillor has to say "no" for he is the one who has to balance the budget.

If a taxpayer has a problem that can be looked after, then I believe his councillor should act promptly to look after it.

As a voter, what are you looking for in your councillor?

1. Are you interested in new ideas on council?

2. A better maintained road?

3. Improved recreation facilities for your children.

4. Annihilation policies?

5. A man who can work closely with our MLA?

I believe I can work with council and offer some solutions on some of these problems. I also believe if closer relationship with St. Albert town council and the provincial government is a must if we are to keep our taxes within reason.

If given the opportunity on Nov. 24, I will work with vigor and determination to bring your problems and your ideas to council. Then I will to the best of my ability and knowledge work to help you solve those problems.

There are still quite a few people that I will be visiting before the election on Nov. 24.

Ed Courchesne

I am interested and able to devote my time to the welfare and progress of the municipality. In addition I was in office, during the years of County System when school and municipal were under the same administration, which gave me varied experiences.

These reasons have led me to accept the requests of a number of ratepayers to run for Councillor in the November 24 election.

I am certain that if elected, I can be an asset to the administration of the municipality and the needs of Division #1.

On Wednesday, November 24 vote for T. E. Courchesne, a man with experience.

Reg Crozier

As I am running for councillor in Division #2 in the municipal election on Nov. 24th, I would like you, the electors, to know some of my background.

I was born in the Marmora area in 1921, a third generation Albertan, and a true Canadian all my life.

Raised and educated in this area, I served from 1942 to 1946 in the Canadian Active Army, in Canada and overseas. I have been a successful farmer in the area since 1947.

I took part in all sporting activity and other community projects in the area, as I was growing up. In 1951 I married the former Arlene Potter. We have two children, Douglas 18, and Janice 15, both at home.

I have been a continuous member of the UFA and FFA for 25 years, holding office in both organizations. At present I am on the advisory committee of the UFA.

Following are boards on which I have held office: Ray - R.E.A., Namoo Community League, United Church of Namoo, 9 successful; coach in minor league hockey, and manager in minor league baseball for the past 10 years.

I have been involved in all activity in our area:

community halls at Naino; curling rinks at St. Albert and Naino; 4th Sturgeon River Dairy Club, and in every project in community affairs, which would make our community a better place to live in.

My hobbies are hunting, fishing, curling. My motives all my life have been guided by the principal, "If it is worth doing it's worth doing well." Action is far better than words.

So on Nov. 24 vote C. Reg Crozier for unbiased and undivided representation.

Ted Hancock

Having accepted the nomination for councillor in District No. 7 and if elected I will work with determination to provide good representation. It is my belief this position could best be filled by a young man with rural background I am 25 years old, have a grade 12 education and have been an active grain farmer in this district for all of my adult years. I offer youth, a clear mind and realistic outlook to the problems of the 70's.

If elected I will work for the betterment of the electorate of district No. 7 and the municipality as a whole. Given the opportunity to serve you, I will do my utmost to make your tax dollar as beneficial as possible.

I have a firm belief that your councillor should be willing to listen and help each individual in his district. I am prepared to do just that. In working with the other members of council I plan to be fair and unbiased, thus keeping the best interests of all at heart.

With the close proximity of our municipality to the city of Edmonton, I believe it is time we took a realistic outlook towards small industry and the development of our non-productive lands. It is the county or municipality with "look ahead" ideas in these areas that is thriving today.

It is time we encouraged such ventures in order to reduce the tax burden now placed on the farmer.

It would give me great pleasure to serve you in the capacity of councillor and I am looking forward to your support at the polls on November 24th, 1971.

Thank you.

Walter Jerram

In this, my first bid for public office, I am asking my friends, neighbors and fellow-ratepayers to vote for me because I feel that of all three candidates in Division 7 I am best able to work, speak and act on your behalf.

When it comes to your interests, I will not hesitate to make my voice heard loud, long and clear at council or in committee.

I will not sit idly in meetings and let somebody else do all the talking. I will listen to what they have to say but I will insist that they listen to what I have to say. Because what I say will be said on your behalf. And you are the people to be served by your councillor for Division 7.

You will be served if you vote for me. This is my solemn pledge to you.

I may be contacted at 298-2152.

Remember - on November 24th mark your ballot Walter Jerram.

Angus McDonell

At this time I am asking the residents of Division 4 for their support in the election for councillor, to represent your district for the next three years. For the people who don't know me, just a brief outline.

I was born on the home farm, the youngest of 10 children. I have been married for 29 years and farm just three miles from my birthplace. We farm 800 acres and raise hogs and chickens. We have just established a 80 sow herd of Camorough hogs, flown over from England last December.

We have a family of four children, all educated at Camilla School.

Wayne is a Veterinary Doctor, and is presently in Cambridge, England, furthering his education.

Joan is married to Larry Perrott (who farms with me in our hog enterprise) and is nursing in the Sturgeon General Hospital in St. Albert.

Carol is taking Grade 12 at St. Albert High, and Grade 9 at Riviera Qui Barre.

I have always been interested in municipal affairs, having served five years on the Agricultural Service Board.

If elected, I will work for the people of my area, and for the MD of Sturgeon as a whole.

Harold Paul

The circumstances of my nomination for the opportunity to serve on the council of the MD of Sturgeon are regrettable. The recent illness of Jack Harold, who served the last term, and the severity of that illness that made it necessary for him to withdraw, is a great loss to Sturgeon. But as a result I was overwhelmed by the representation of so many of my neighbors to accept the nomination. After due consideration I have agreed to offer myself to you as a candidate.

The experience of the past 2 1/2 years as a trustee of Sturgeon school division has given me fairly close contact with municipal operations, and enough insight into this work that I feel that I can serve as your councillor to the advantage of both school board and municipal council and hence to the advantage of you the ratepayers and electors.

It must be made clear at this point that if elected, I intend to arrange my personal affairs in such a way as to be available to serve both offices. I have investigated the possibility of conflict of meetings, and although there may be occasions when conflict of dates may occur, it is my feeling that this will not be too serious, as committee meetings can be arranged and regular meeting dates do not conflict.

Long range planning for area development is exciting and a real challenge. This is important and necessary. But the real satisfaction to me has been dealing with the day to day problems of the people I have represented. In municipal work I expect the same to be the case. I look forward to dealing with your problems.

All 10 candidates were invited to make use of this space in this issue and next.

Assistance available for mothers' program Registrations accepted for welding school

The Homemaker
By Pat Prymak,
District Home Economist
Are there a number of young mothers in your area who are not involved in any club or group programs? Raising a family is a full-time occupation and many young mothers cannot afford the luxury of hiring a babysitter to give them an afternoon off.

A very worthwhile project for any ladies' group is to provide an "Afternoon Out" program for the young homemakers in their community. In areas where this program is in progress, it is very popular. Namoo residents have started a "Mothers-Take-A-Break" program held for two hours every Wednesday morning.

The sponsoring group finds out the type of program of interest to the homemakers. If it's a home economics subject, I can provide a demonstration, talk, etc. The sponsoring group then arranges time, place, date, etc. and provides babysitting in an adjoining room.

The meeting is held during school hours so the mothers can be home after school. The program can involve one morning or one afternoon or a full day, once a week, depending on interest.

Why not give it a try in your area? Being tied down with small children can really be depressing for some mothers, especially in the rural areas. Why not give them an "Afternoon Out" to visit, socialize and learn something new and interesting.

P.S. If just a group of young mothers are interested in forming their own "Afternoon Out" and wish further information and guidance, please give your District Home Economist a call at 256-3351 or drop a line to Box 510, MD Bldg., Morinville.

The welding school scheduled for late November will be held from March 13 to March 17, 1972 at Morinville.

This course is comprised of lectures, normal welding, basic joints, overhead welding, cast and maleable iron welding - acetylene and electrical, special metals (aluminum), hard facing, etc.

The cost per student is $20 which barely covers the cost of material used by each student.

Pre-registration will be at the District Agriculturist's office in Morinville (phone 256-3351). Acceptance is on a first-come first-serve basis. All farmers are welcome.

Meeting to discuss auction management

Farming is a business, therefore management tools are a must. The best tools are record keeping and an analysis of these records. In order to acquaint farmer/producers with all aspects of record keeping, analysis of records, interpretation, etc., a meeting is scheduled for December 2, 1971 at the MD building in Morinville, starting at 1:00 p.m. If the lady of the house is the accountant, then kindly bring her along. As they say in the business world "Let's Get With It!"

For further information contact your District Agriculturist at 256-3351, Morinville.

Warble inspection to start

Jack Kerns, livestock supervisor, Alberta department of agriculture, says inspection will start at Alberta auction markets on Feb. 1, 1972 for warble infested cattle. The inspection is part of a program to rid the province of warble flies which cause an estimated annual loss of one million dollars to Alberta cattle producers.

Inspections and identification of warble infested cattle will be implemented by veterinary inspectors. The cattle infested with warbles will be announced by auctioneers at the sale ring. Auction market management will arrange with the local service board for treatment or other disposition of cattle with warble grubs.

Mr. Kerns urges stockmen to treat their cattle for warbles so there will be only grub-free cattle for sale during the grub emergence period from February to June.

Decorating Series hears talk on floor coverings

The Homemaker

By Pat Prymak,
District Home Economist

At the first session in the Decorating Your Home Series, held on November 1 at 8 p.m. in the Morinville Recreation Centre, a small group listened to Mr. Sean Booth, marketing representative for Armstrong Cork Co. of Canada. Mr. Booth spoke on hard-surface floor covering materials and material composition, maintenance procedures and advantages and limitations of various resilient floor covering products. Samples of the various types of tiles and sheet goods were on display for all to see and touch. As well, informative booklets on tiles, corlon, corair and candide were available to take home. What did we learn from Mr. Booth? Here's some of the information on resilient flooring that Sean passed on to those in attendance.

VINYL ASBESTOS TILES
There are three types of tiles available for the consumer to buy.

1. Straight Grain Tile - The markings or print go through to the back of the tile surface. These tiles come in the .080 gauge (thickness) approved by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CMHC). The tiles are generally available in 12 inch by 12 inch squares, are porous and least expensive in price than Type 11.

2. Type 11 Series Tile. Made of vinyl asbestos, but have a pure vinyl surface which adds to the durability and to the cost of the tile. These tiles are about 10 per cent higher in price than the straight grain tiles, Type 11 tiles are easier to maintain because of their non-porous feature.

3. "Place and Press" Tiles - The above tiles are covered with a sticky backing. On removing the wax paper backing the tiles are placed in position and pressed down. They're in place. That's all there is to it -- no messing around, spreading a tile glue. These tiles are priced 10 per cent higher than the Type 11 series.

For straight grain and type 11 tiles, buy the special cement used to install vinyl tiles. Read the label on the cement can, and it will tell the type of tile to use.

TILE-ON-TILE CEMENT is your old tile flooring in good condition, but you're tired of the color and pattern? No need to strip off the old tiles, just buy the "tile-on-tile" cement.

A. Cushion Roto-Vinyl - Examples of trade names Custom Air, Cushionfloor, etc.

What is a cushion roto-vinyl product? It is made up of layers -

- a) an asbestos fiber backing
- b) a thin layer of cushion foam
- c) a print or photograph of a design
- d) a thin layer of pure vinyl

It is a photo-printed product with certain limitations - low melting point - sharp objects puncture it.

Roto-vinyl products are differentiated by the thickness of vinyl coating applied to the surface, e.g., "Acotone" - vinyl coating is .008 inch thick. This thickness is not approved by CMHC.

"Cor-Air" - vinyl coating is .015 inch thick -- CMHC approved.

"Custom Air" - vinyl coating is .015 inches thick; cushion foam thickness is increased by 30 per cent. These products are easy to install due to their flexibility. Many colors and designs are available, from which the consumer can choose - greens, blues, reds, pinks, yellows, oranges, whites, browns, etc. flower designs, geometric designs, Spanish designs, etc. Some designs would make attractive feature walls.

How long will this flooring last? Mr. Booth gave the average of seven years. He said this is a reliable estimate, because in about seven years the homemaker is tired of the pattern and color and wants a change.

Installation Tip - For all types of cushion roto vinyl products, the seam must be sealed with a seam liquid. This liquid melts the top surface of vinyl and so fuses the seams together. This is a touchy technique, so should be done by a qualified floor installer. If too much liquid is applied, it can melt completely through the vinyl coating resulting in no bond at all.

B. "Cushion Flooring" is over sold on the cushion comfort and the "no-wax" features. Both features are highly over-rated. There is NO such thing as a no wax floor covering. Wax is necessary to maintain and preserve floor coverings. Mr. Booth stressed the necessity of some wax protection. He said in the case of cushion roto-vinyl products, waxing is only necessary once every two or three months. Before re-waxing, he recommended that the old wax be removed.

This prevents the flooring from yellowing.

WHAT WAX TO USE? -- For Armstrong floor coverings, the manufacturer has tested and done research on the floor wax they recommend to use on their products. Armstrong floor care products are available in the housewares section of department stores and in a number of lumber stores. Never use a paste wax on a vinyl asbestos floor covering. It will soften the vinyl, thus making it porous

so attracting dust and dirt.

VINYL CORLON - This is a sheet product made up of laid vinyl asbestos chips.

The chips are put onto an asbestos backing. For long-term wear, buy corlon of the .090 inch gauge. Corlon can be installed on or over any type of floor.

STAIN REMOVAL TIP: - Cigarette scorch mark on corlon; to remove - moisten cotton batting with nail polish remover; apply to scorch; the scrape off stain.

C. "Candide" - A sheet floor covering that combines cushion roto-vinyl and corlon, product features. You get the comfort of cushion under foot and the increased wearability of the surface. Unusual and exciting patterns are available in this "Candide" line.

Linoleum is one of the best sheet flooring products available but is being faded out.

What Mr. Booth had to tell us was very worthwhile and interesting and provided consumers with valuable knowledge on how to buy resilient floor coverings.

To help lengthen the life time of any resilient floor covering, chair and table legs require protective floor caps to prevent floor indentations.

Lastly, Mr. Booth did not recommend using carpet in a bathroom or in a kitchen. He said it is not practical from the point of view of stains. Wine, mustard, ketchup and milk stains are extremely difficult to remove from any carpet fibre.

The attendance at this first session of the Decorating Your Home series was very small. This series is a consumer education series so the consumer will know what to "be aware of" when shopping for household furnishings and appliances.

November 15 - What's New in Wall Coverings - Paint - Speaker, J. Hume, Sherwin William Paints, Ceramic Tiles - types and how to apply - Demonstrator from Amos Bros.

So, come on out on Monday evenings to Morinville Recreation Centre at 8 p.m. and bring a friend or two or three or more!!!

Annual Meeting
The Gibbons Seed Plant will be holding their annual meeting on Saturday, December 11 in the Gibbons Community Hall at 2 p.m. All shareholders are invited to attend. The year's operations and financial statement will be discussed.
